ANOTHER MAMMOTH NEWSPAPER FILLED WITH STORIES AND SKETCHES.

colorla

THE GERMAN EMPEROR'S VIEWS

What Wilhelm Thinks of America and its People,

SEE THE SUNDAY WORLD

A Special Cable Interview Sent by a World Commissioner in Berlin. Die er bie in die inderende in die

PRICE ONE CENT.

NEW YORK, SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 29, 1888.

SHE SWINDLED SIX HUNDRED

OTH WRS SUSAN MYERS PLAYED A GREAT BYMPATHETIC PART.

and Business Men by Hundreds Fell Victims to Her Wiles and $20-Bitts Poured Freely Into Her Treesury—A Clever Make-Up and Forgod Letters

Police Capt. William McLaughlin and his ard detectives, Oates and Nugent, ar-igued a stout, well-fed looking German man before Justice White in the Tombs Police Court this morning on a charge of swindling a number of people out of sums of money ranging from $5 to $25.

The prisoner gave her name as Susan midt, aged fifty-five, and with a sorrowful shake of the head declared she had "no

The police knew her better by the name of Susan Myers. She has been swindling people all over the country for fifteen years past. Several times she has been arrested and im sisoned, but always received slight sen-

There is something of a mystery about

She claims to have been married to a respeciable man, who she says is dead, and that while he was alive she lived an honest She says that she took to swindling people for a living after her husband died.

It is known that she has a son, a respectable young married man in this city. For a long time he did not know of his mother's evil ways, but after she had been arrested once he learned the truth. The disgrace nearly killed him. When she was released from prison he tried to reform her, but find-ing his best efforts unsuccessful, he disowned her and put her from his home. That was her and put her from his nome. That was several years ago.

Since then she has served a term of two years in the Kings County Penitentiary, but the New York police had heard nothing of her for three years until about two weeks ago. Then Capt, McLanghlin began to receive one or two complaints daily from business men in his precinct who had been swindled by an oily-tongued old German woman.

woman.

The first case that came to the Captain's ears was that of William Thompson, a coffee broker at 96 Front street. The old woman went into his office about three weeks ago crying bitterly. She seemed bent with age.

The soiled and ragged handscrehief that had once been white did not hide the discordered gray hair that fell in seanty ringlets about the old woman's neck. She wore only a ragged quitted skirt for a dress, and her shoes were not fit to wear.

Her appearance alone excited Mr. Thompson's pity. Kindly he asked her what he could do for her.

After an extra sob or two she told him that her only sou lay dead in the Hospital for Incurables. His body would be interred in Potter's Field if she could not raise money enough to bury him decently.

"I know you are a charitable man," she moaned. "You look good and kind, and besides I was told to apply to you by Mr. Dilts." As she said this she produced a visiting card of the Rey. A. Reed Dilts, the pastor of the church in Plainfield, N. J., which Mr. Thompson attends.

Even if he had any doubt of the genuine.

church in Plainfield, N. J., which Mr. Thompson atlends.

Even if he had any doubt of the genuineness of the woman's appeal, the card would have set all suspicion at rest, so he gave the poor woman $20, and the addresses of several of his friends, and let her go away.

When he saw his pastor next time he spoke to him about the unfortunate woman, but Mr. Dilts did not know her and had never heard of her. Mr. Thompson got angry and next day reported the case to Capt. Mc-Laughlin.

In the station-house he met Charles A.

Laughlin.

In the station-house he met Charles A.

Hainea, a stock broker at 81 New street, who was "worked" the same way by the poor old woman. He lost $15. He also live's in Plainfield, and it was Dr. Dilts's card that opened his purse so readily also.

Since then about twenty-eight reported at the station-house.

Detectives Oates and Nugent knew the woman years ago and recognized her immediately.

Detectives Oates and Nugent knew the woman years ago and recognized her immediately.

They brought her to the station-house, where she confessed her guilt, and said that, altogether, she had swindled over six hundred people in the last few years. In court this morning the following complaints were made against her:

S. L. Haines, of 202 West Forty-third street, lost $10 July 25 last.

John Morris, of 43 and 45 Worth street, swindled out of $15 July 20.

James S. Coward, 270 Greenwich street, $10 Aug. 22, and J. J. Coyns, of Elizabeth, N.J., $15 on Sept. 28. Mrs. Myers was held for trial.

PITCHER GETS SEVEN YEARS.

His Sentence Considered Light-Pre

ings to Recover. [SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.]

MONTBRAL, Sept. 29.—Pitcher, the default ing cashier of the Providence Bank, was sen enced to seven years in the penitentiary this norning for bringing stolen money into

It was generally expected that he would be given the full limit of the law, fourteen years, and Chief Justice Derion's sentence is considered lenient. eonsidered lenient.

Proceedings are now being taken in the civil courts for the recovery of the notes and bills of exchange now in the hands of High Constable Bissonnette.

WHAT EMPEROR WILLIAM PAINE

See the SURDAY WORLD. A special Interview with the new German ruler cabled from Berlin by a Pox and the Scullers.

Rehard K. Fox will put up $5,000 for the champion-scullers to content for, or he will give Remp, the Amstrahun champion, $1,000 for expenses to row Teemer in this country for $5,000, his challenge cup and the single scull championship of the world.

Chief Byrnos's Condition. Inspector Syrnes is walking about the room this inorning and hopes with reasonable care to be at Police Headquarters by Saturday next.

He chates under the restraints of a sick room and is very anxious to take hold of the helm in his Bureau.

The Irish Huriera. liead the superbly illustrated article on the Irish am of athletes and hariers and the flower of our merion athletes in to-morrow's Journal. Only cans. with a complete novel.

"HUTCH" HOLDS SEPT. WHEAT AT $2. No Sales on the Chicago Exchange-$1.60

CHICAGO, Sept. 29.—There was no early trading in September wheat at the opening. October wheat opened 1 cent higher than it closed yesterday afternoon at 99%c., but it ras weak and rapidly declined %c. to 99%c. 10. 10 A. M .- $1.60 bid for September wheat. 10.80.-No September wheat offered for sale at less than $2, Old "Hutch," who is engineering the present corner, is master of the situation, and will probably clear two or three million dollars on the deal.

THE LOCAL WHEAT MARKET STEADY. Resumes Its Normal Condicto with Prices a Trifle Lower. In the Produce Exchange this morning, here was every indication that the wheat market was resuming its normal condition. There was no sign of excitement or anxiety regarding the opening, and the first prices quoted made this feeling even more reassuring.

The opening prices were: For December, $1.05: January, $1.06%; May, $1.09; Novamber, $1.08%; and October, $1.02%.

This shows a slightly lower rate than prevailed at the opening yesterday morning, and a trifle higher than the closing prices yesterday.

At Chicago the first prices recorded were $1.05 for December, $1.06% January, $1.09 May, $1.08% November, and $1.02 for October. No offers of September were made at the opening of the market.

It is the general opinion of the New York grain trade that the prices in Chicago will not reach any higher than yesterday.

COL. FELLOWS'S SHARP AXE.

Soon Lose Their Heads. Our local Democratic statesmen are bus to-day discussing the removals of subordinates in the District-Attorney's office. The action of Col. Fellows in "bouncing John F. Brennan, Deputy Chief Clerk, and Assistant Clerks Philip Emrich and Frederick M. Moore has given rise to the comments of the politicians.

The Tammany Hall people say that the

The Tammany Hall people say that the three subordinates have lost their positions because they held their places through the influence of Commissioner Purroy and Judge White. Said a Wigwam oracle: "Brennan, Emrich and Moore have all along been known as friends of the Commissioner and the Judge.

"Neither one of the three bounced cierks has faltered in his allegiance to Purroy and White since the two leaders broke away from the County Democracy. Why, it was only the others day that I heard Brennan saying that Purroy and White had been forced out of the C. D., and that he would stick to them through thick and thin. I bear that all of Purroy's and White's men in the District Attorney's office will have to walk the plank."

Col. Fellows denies that the removal of Brennan was owing to factious politics. He

Col. Fellows denies that the removal of Brennan was owing to factious politics. He says that Emrich and Moore were appointed at the recommendation of Purroy and White. "I had to cut down expenses," remarked the Colonel, "to keep within the appropriation, and I thought I could spare the three men whose resignations I asked."

A prominent official of the District-Attorney's office said: "I don't think that Purroy and White had anything to do with Brennan's dismissal. Brennan is a big fellow and is the brother of Commissioner Thomas S. Brennan. Andrew Fay has not been removed and he is the nephew of Judge White. Fay is a $1,200 clerk. Neither has Messenger Michael Sexton been bounced. He is fatherin-law of Philip Milligan, the bosom friend of Judge White. If Col. Fellows wanted to carry on a war to the knife against Purroy and White he would remove about six other attachés."

and White he would remove about six other attachés."

The friends of Purroy and White laugh at Col. Fellows's statements. They says that Brennan, Moore and Emrich would not have been removed if Purroy and White had remained in the County Democracy.

"It is just like Fellows," remarked a friend of Judge White, "He has taken the first opportunity to get square with the Judge for jumping out of the County Democracy. There is no man in the city who worked harder for Fellows last election than White, but any one who knows the Colonel knows that he is an ungrateful little cuss."

At 2 o'clock this afternoon it was rumored that Brennan, Emrich and Moore were in danger of breaking their legs in a scramble to reach the Purroy and White enrolment-book.

SWINDLED BY A MAGNETIC HEALER. Prof. De Larriviere and His Lady Assistan Did a Big Business in Pitteburg.

MPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD. PITTEBURG, Sept. 29.—About three weeks ago a big sensation was caused here by the arrival of Prof. Louis De Lorriviere, who said he came from New York. He claimed to be a magnetic healer, and gave several free exhibitions. This drew hig crowds to the offices he opened at 428 Pennsylvania avenue, with a handsome blonde girl, who acted as his sesistant.

All patients who came to him had to pay a fee of $25. Some medicine was then given and the next visit was appointed for a date several weeks ahead. In this way he secured several thousand dollars.

Last Sunday the Professor left with all his baggage, saying he would be back in a few days. Since then the office has been bestieged by scores of people who were swindled.

swindled.

Last night a warrant was issued for his arrest by Perkins's Detective Agency on information made by Mrs. Darrow, a poor woman who had given $14, all the money she had, to have her daughter cured of blindness. The Frenchman assured her he could effect a cure, and took the money, making her give a note to pay more. He is now in New York, and an order for his arrest has been sent there. More informations will be made assigns him to day.

Says His Child was Kidnupped. Hays His Child was Kidnupped.
William Bereau, of 16 Barrow street, notified police headquarters at Stapleton, S. L., late last night-test on Thursday afternoon his little five-year old daughter, Mary, was kidnapped by a woman, who took the child in a cab and drove off. She was hast seen boarding a Staten Island ferry-boat, leading the child by the hand. The child is described as having dark eyes, with heavy lashes, and wore a white dress, with red trimmings.

They Fay $500, or Cure.
Formany years the manufacturers of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Bemedy, who are thoroughly responsible, financially, have offered in good faith, through nearly every newspaper in the hand, a standing reward of $500 for a case of masi enterrh, no matter how bad, or of how long standing, which they cannot cure. The Remedy is sold by oragists at only 50 cents. It is mild, soothing, elemaing, decdorpting, aniseptic and healing.

NO FUSS OVER MR. BLAINE.

THE OUIET INFORMALITY OF HIS RECEP-TION CONTINUES TO-DAY.

the Pifth Avenue and the Only One Redresnes Are to Be Brief, but the Process sion Is Expected to Be Long.

The lack of formality which distinguished the arrival of Mr. Blaine in the city was continued this morning by the few callers who visited him

Perhaps his manner of dodging the crowd that awaited him in the corridors of the Fifth Avenue Hotel last night may have had an effect in checking enthusiasm, but he remained quietly in his room all this morning, indisturbed by any callers, until a few minutes after 9 o'clock.

At that time Mr. Levi P. Morton appeared and was shown to the great man's room, where he remained for nearly an hour.

In the mean time the callers began to arrive, and cards were sent up to Mr. Blaine but, as he was not yet out of bed, he would eceive no one, with the exception of Mr.

Morton.

Among those who sent in their cards were Col. G. R. Davis, of the Republican National Committee; Gen. Cassins Goodloe, Gen. J. E. Hall, and ex-Gov. H. C. Warmouth, of Ohio.

Little knots of politicians gathered in the corridors discussing the situation and the coming meeting at the Polo Grounds.

When Mr. Morton came down from Mr. Blaine's room several hats were raised in sa'ute, to which Mr. Morton responded with an amiable smile and nod as he disappeared in the direction of the National Committee rooms.

sa'ute, to which Mr. Morton responded with an amiable smile and nod as he disappeared in the direction of the National Committee rooms.

About 10,30 o'clock Mr. Walker Biaine came downstairs. He was at once surrounded by a crowd of friends, and handshaking in abundance followed.

Gov. Foraker had not yet arrived, but was looked for at any hour.

The line of march for the parade to precede the Republican mass-meeting at the Polo Grounds this evening will extend from One Hundred and Thirtieth street, through Lenox avenue to One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street, to Lexington avenue, to One Hundred and Sixteenth street, to Lenox avenue, to the Polo Grounds entrance at One Hundred and Twelfth street.

Major Charles Appleby is the Grand Marshal, and the parade will be formed in six divisions, headed by a platoon of mounted police. Major Appleby says he will turn out 5,000 men.

It is announced that all the addresses will be very brief, Mr. Blaine leading off with a few words which he will begin to offer very promptly at 8 o'clock.

Congressman McKinley will be unable to be present, but it is said there will be for speakers, besides he of the White Plume, Congressman Enterty, of Chicago, Gov. Foraker, ex-United States District Attorney Tenney, of Brooklyn, Congressman McKinley Tenney, of Brooklyn, C. Plammer, of Dakota; Congressman W. E. Mason, of Illinois; Gen. Adam E. King, of Baltimore; President James P. Foster, of the Republican National Lengue; Gen. Stewart L. Woodford, ex-Judge A. L. Morrison and the Rev. Dr. W. B. Derrick.

The sunshine of this morning delighted the Republican managers. To be sure the temperature made them shiver a bit, but they frust to Mr. Blaine's magnetism to warm up the multitude expected at the massmeeting.

Mr. Cappa's band is announced to be at the Polo Grounds where the musteins will meeting.

Mr. Cappa's band is announced to be at the Polo Grounds, where the musicians will transform the frigid air into delightful tonic combinations. A campaign chorus choir will also participate in the services.

ANTI-POVERTTITES VERY MAD.

The Police Charged with Unfairness in Arresting Dr. Coughlin at the Fair. A large number er of Anti-Povertvites were in the Jefferson Market Police Court this morn-

They came to see what disposition would be made of Dr. Coughlin, who was arrested at the Fair last night by Capt. Really's detec-tives for selling a share on the bust of Dr. McGlynn.

McGlynn.

They were loud in their denunciation of the manner in which they had been treated. First they said the police stopped the music, then the marionette horse-race, then the "pigeon traps," and new they had stopped the share-taking.

"Why do not the police stop the other fairs?" was a question frequently asked, and the answer came invariably:

"There are two laws, one for the Anti-Poverty Bociety and another for other people."

ple."
Dr. Coughlin, who had been released on $500 furnished at the station-house, was in court, accompanied by Henry Parsons, the Society's counsel. When called before Justice Ford Detective Brett told the story of the bound the share.

tice Ford Detective Brett told the story of how he bought the share.

William Emory Childs, the agent of the So-ciety for the Suppression of Vice, was on hand and stated that he purchased a share on Dr. McGlynn's portrait from a lady on Wednesday, and she told him that all the numbers would be put in a hat and one picked out. This would win the picture, she Counsellor Parsons denied that the lady had authority to make such an assertion, and in order to enable the Society to procure more evidence that the law had been violated the Justice adjourned the case until Tuesday at 3 o'clock.

In conversation with The Evening World reporter Mr. Childs, the Society's officer, said that he won a clock on the same plan at the fair recently held in St. Stephen's Church. He did not prosecute in that case. A Point for Pool-Sellers. Thomas Casey, who was arrested in the pool

Thomas Casey, who was arrested in the poorroom at 93 Church street, for selling a $5 pool ticget on the races, was discharged by Justice White in the Tombs Police Court to-day, on a point made by Lawyer Abe Hummei, that under the law of 1887 it was lawful to bet on race tracks, and that all the prisoner did was to take money to do this lawful set. Casey sold the ticket to a policeman who arrested him.

Fair and Slightly Colder.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.

The Weather To-day Indicated by Blakely's tele-thermon

BEDELL STANDS ON CEREMONY.

He Will Not Plend in Court Because the Complaint Is Defective.

The determination of Forger James E. Bedell to take every advantage that the law will allow him was shown by his demand for counsel and an examination at the hearing at the Tombs last Thursday.

It was after 11 o'clock this morning when the prisoner was brought up from his cell to Justice White's private room in the Tombs Police Court. It was there learned that be had not yet engaged counsel, and that asked for.

another adjournment would probably be asked for.

Bedell was brought out into the examination room by Capt. McLaughlin, and was accompanied only by his brother, Charles G. Bedell, who has been his most frequent companion since his arrest.

The forger was evidently more composed and at his ease than on any of his previous appearances in public. He had lost the skulking, shame-faced look that he had worp on those occasions, and although the room was crowded with people he held himself erect and looked around at the faces before him without flinching.

It was said that he had been doctored up with bromide, and he certainly appeared to be in improved health and spirits. Assistant District-Attorney Hartman and Solomon Hanford were present to look after the interests of the prosecution.

When Judge White, referring to the adjournment of last Thursday, asked the prisoner if he had obtained counsel and was ready to proceed, Bedell rose from his chair and said:

"If it please Your Honor, I have not yet secured counsel, but I am ready to plead now if I may be permitted to read the complaint and know what its purport is."

After taking the document and reading it over carefully he solemnly handed it back to the magistrate.

"If it please Your Honor," he said again,

over carefully he solemnly handed it back to the magistrate.

"If it please Your Honor," he said again,
"I cannot plead to this complaint, because it is defective. I will plead, however, whenever a proper one is drawn."

Without any further parleying Justice White announced that he would adjourn the examination till next Wednesday.

Assistant District-Attorney Hartman said there was no defect whatever in the complaint, except that it might be made stronger, and added that it was only a pretext on the part of Bedell to gain further delay. The latter thought that if he should plead to-day, his plea would be used as a handle by Lawyer Howe to shield his clients, the policy dealers, in whose shop clients, the policy dealers, in whose shop Bedeil claims to have lost most of his money.

G. A. R. VETS AT NORRISTOWN.

Fire To-Night.

[SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.] NORRISTOWN, Pa., Sept. 29. - This is Veterans' Day in Norristown. The Grand Army Association of Montgomery County has received acceptances from about forty G. A. R.

ceived acceptances from about forty G. A. R. posts, which are coming in the morning from Philadelphia and Montgomery, Berks, Bucks, Chester, Schnytkill and Northumberland counties.

The parade will take place in the afternoon. A number of the posts will arrive in the forenoon and be entertained at the various hotels.

The chief marshal will be Gen. John F. Hartranft.

This evening a camp-fire will be held in the Musical Hall, to be presided over by Secretary of Internal Affairs Thomas J. Stewart.

Stewart.
It is estimated that no less than five thousand persons will take part in the demonstra-Among the distinguished guests present are, Gov. Beaver and a number of his staff officers, and persons conspicuous in Grahd Army circles.

BILLY O'BRIEN SAILS AWAY.

He Has Gone to Europe to Complete Ar-Editor Billy O'Brien, of the Sporting Times, was one of the passengers for Liverpool on the Inman teamer City of Berlin, which sailed to-day. He was bidden farewell by a score of sporting will complete the arrangements for the coming of the European-champion pedestrians to America to participate in the six-day go-as-you-please sweep-stakes at Madison Square Garden Thankagiwing week.

week.

Charlie Rowell will return with O'Brien and George Littlewood and a famous Irish representative will take part in the event. It will be a champions' race, only the leading six or eight pedestrians of the world being admitted in the competition.

Jimmie Albert and Paddy Pitzgerald will enter, and Joe Scott, the Australian champion, and George Mason will also be in the race, which will be under the management of O'Brien, Doc Robbins, of Palisatelphia, and James E. Kennedy, of the Sporting Times.

Turning the Tables on Bismurck.

(BY CABLE TO THE PRESS NEWS ASSOCIATION, I LONDON, Sept. 29.—The Times publishes a letter evidently written by a person of eminence connected with the Court, in which Prince Bismarck's letter to the Emperor William on the publication of the late Emperor's diary is severely criticised.

The writer makes the point that Prince Bamarch in saying that the Emperor William had instructed him not to confide in the Crown Prince has him self divulged State secrets, and is condem

As Ex-Circus Man in Difficulty. Charles Leroy, of Harrisburg, Pa., a horsetrainer and formerly a circus man, was arrested this morning as he stepped off the arrested this morning as he stepped off the Bridgeport boat by Detective Mulvey, on a charge made by Annie Hastinga, who claims that she gave him in Harrisonburg, where she also resides, $400 with which to buy horses for her, and that he fatled to do so. Leroy said he lost the money while travelling between Harrisburg and Washington. He was willing to give her a horse worth $1,600, now in his possession. He was remanded in the Tomba Porice Court to-day to await a requisition for his return to Virginia.

Strikes on New Buildings. course of erection in One Hundred and Thirtsfith street, between Seventh and Eighth ave nues, went on strike against some non-nues, went on strike against some non-nuion paper-hangers who were engaged for the work. Delegate McLaughlin settled the matter with Boas Fainter Chatheld, who agreed to em-gly union hands only.

The paper-hangers employed on McManne's buildings, at One Hundred and Thirty-full struct and Eights awenne, are on strike to-day because they have not received wages overdue them.

Charged with Conspiring to Steal. Fred Paine, of 237 Gold street, Brooklyn: Joan Smith, an expressman, and Edward Stanton were with conspiring to steal $1,000 worth of lead from the Colwell Lead Company, of 95 Centre atreet. Paine was employed with the lead company as a porter. Justice White held the prisoners in $1,000 each for trial.

A thrilling novel of mystery, complete, with morrow's Journal. Only 4 cents.

to Canada.

Inspector Byrnes Has Not Even Been Notified-of the Robbery.

A Rumor that the Fund's Lawyer

Has Gone to See Him.

William R. Foster, jr., the absconding attorney of the Produce Exchange, has been President Alex E. Orr, of the Exchange mays that he was seen at the Grand Central Station about the time for the departure of the Montreal Express, Wednesday evening. It is certain that a Pinkerton detective is here looking for him. From the fact that Horsce E. Deming, who has been retained as counsel for the Trustees of the Gratuity Fund, left the city last evening, it is sur-mised that Foster has been found and Mr. Deming has gone to see him, with the idea of effecting a settlement and the return of the $193,000 which Foster obtained by his forgeries of mx years.

INSPECTOR BYRNES SLIGHTED. A look of blank surprise greeted an Eves ING WORLD reporter as he entered the Detective Bureau at Police Headquarters and

ING WORLD reporter as he entered the Detective Bureau at Police Headquarters and asked what was being done to apprehend Lawyer Poster, the mortgage forger of the Produce Exchange.

"The only information we have is what we have learned in The Evening World and other newspapers," was the reply. "The members of the Produce Exchange, for some inscrutable reason, refrained from informing Inspector Byrnes of the great frauds perpetrated upon their Grantity Pund, and neither sought the aid of nor gave any information whatever to the Police force of the city of New York. Private detectives and even rural constables were taken into their confidence, while the regular detective force was ignored. Of course Foster has not been arrested yet."

The feeling among the police force is very great over this slight on the part of the Produce Exchange, taken in view of the fact that when the Russian-bath establishment in their building was victimized Inspector Byrnes run down and arrested the thieving and forging officer and uncerthed the frauds in less than a week. Some of the higher officials venture the opinion that there is no desire to have Foster arrested if his father can be induced to pay up.

Thomas F. Wentworth, Foster's law partner, said to-day in regard to Foster's adopted daughter:

"Miss Lulu is of a good Florida family. Her mother, Mme. Belotte is a resident of Philadelphia, and is now living at Atlantic City. She is in delicate health.

"It was not Mr. Foster's sister, but Lulu's, who died in Paris, and that was but a few weeks ago. She was the wife of Mr. Zeigler, a well-known artist, a member of one of the large singing societies of this city."

"The boy Willie who visited her at Bayport and was known as her brother is in fact her twin brother. At the time of his visits to Bayport he was attending school in New Jersey and is now in the West, employed by a firm of civil engineers."

night," continued Mr. Wentworth, 'he told Lulu to visit some friends in New York until next week, as he would be away from home. When she left her home Wednesday she was coming to this city, where she now is at the residence of friends. 'She did not learn of the charges against her adopted father until yesterday morning, and is almost heartbroken."

Mr. Wentworth refused to disclose the whereabouts of the girl.

He said that there is absolutely nothing in the story of scandal involving the girl at the time of her residence in Washington Heights, with Mr. Foster.

Mr. Foster adopted her just prior to leaving the Heights and removing to Far Rockaway.

ing the Heights and removing to Far Rockaway.

The attachments which were issued at the suit of the Gratuity Fund against Foster's property were levied upon his effects in the law office where the safe had been sealed by the Sheriff's officers.

Foster banked with the Produce Exchange Bank, the Chatham Bank and the Bowery National Bank. His balances in these banks, the amount of which could not be ascer tained, were also attached in this suit.

An attachment was also issued against the

An attachment was also issued against the An attachment was also issued against the Bayport property.

Mr. Wentworth said that he always understood that this property was in his partner's name, having been purchased of a widow residing in Hayport. He was surprised to learn that there is no record of a transfer to Foster in the County Clerk's office of Suffolk County.

County. A WILL DRAWN IN MISS LULU'S PAVOR. That Foster had a great affection for his adopted daughter is apparent from the fact that his will is drawn in her favor, Mr. Wentworth says.

The absconder's partner resents the stories The absconder's partner resents the stories of Foster's irregularities. He says that he has been intimate with him since 1869, and that he knows that Will, as he familiarly calls him, never knew how to play poker, and that billiards even were a mystery to him. He said, too, that he is willing to stake his all that no man ever saw Foster intoxicated during all the time he has known him.

OUTGOING STEAMERS WATCHED. President Orr, of the Produce Exchanges aid that all the outgoing steamers were watched by detectives to-day to prevent Foster from taking passage on any of them.

He was convinced that this was a useless precaution, for he is confident that Foster is in Canada and that the disclosure of his wrongdoing was so sudden that he had no time to make the necessary arrangements for his flight to a place of safety.

Mr. Orr detailed the method of making loans on mortgage securities to prove that all necessary precautions are taken by the Fund

Trustees.

He says that when application is made Mr. Bennett, the expert for the Dry Dock Savings Bank, is sent to examine the property.

If he reports the security sufficient a member of the Board examines it to verify the report.

Then the papers are given to the Board's attorney to search the title to the property, and on his report the loan is made.

When it was suggested that Mr. Bennett or the trustes who examined the property might inquire the name of the owner and thus prevent the fraud, Mr. Orr replied that they considered their duty done when they proved the sufficiency of the se-curity, and that they seldom made inquiry set to ownership.

He acknowledged that this additional pre-caution would have saved the Fund from loss had the occupants of the premises been in-formed as to their ownership.

POSTER'S LIFE AT WASHINGTON BRIGHTS.

roster's life at washington heights.

The Washington Heights House which Foster occupied previous to his removal to Bayport, is located at 837 St Nicholas avenue. It is a two-story red brick, with a slanting slate roof, and the pretty little piazza in front is adorned with heavy potted plants.

On both sides of the street he was surrounded by the oldest families of Washington Heights. There are the Whitmans, the Griffins, Swifts. Baches and many others who have made this quiet locality their abode.

Everybody is acquainted with every one clise, and so the Foster matter has been well discussed, and many stories have been told sround. The house in which he resided is now occupied by Broker Rosenbaum.

The neighbors, as a rule, refuse to talk of Foster or the girl, but a lady who is at the head of one of the oldest families on the hill told an Evenno Wonld reporter to-day that she had it on good authority that the statement was true that Foster had been upbraided by a resident for allowing the girl to visit their house, and that he had answered in a letter that he had not asked any one to call on him, and had not asked any one for permission to call on them. She aided that the neighbors were surprised that he chose such a neighborhood in which to live if he wanted to keep horses, for he had to go way down to One Hundred and Fifty-first street to get his turnouts. They were very elegant, too, and this also attracted attention,

The lady had two daughters, but didn't allow them to associate with Lulu, for she suspected that everything was not right.

The neighbors felt sorry for the girl, as they thought she was restrained by Foster.

SAID SHE WENT TO A CONVENT.

Soon after the Fosters moved into the house the girl went away and was absent about three months. When she returned she said that she had been boarding at the Con-vent of the Sacred Heart, which was burned recently.

The pair moved away very suddenly, without giving any one any reason for so doing, and it had been whispered that a threat had been made that unless he did go he would be exposed.

When the reporter called at the Ottendorfer mansion, corner of One Hundred and Thirty-aixth street and the Boulevard, where a section of the convent is now located, he was met by the porteress, who invited him inside.

When asked if Lulu Foster or Lulu Belofte had been a scholar in the old convent, she answered that the girl had not. She has kept the register for sixteen years and can remember every scholar in that time. To make sure, however, she examined the record for the last five years and found she was correct.

Whether Lulu attended the convent or not, is an open question. She may have been there under an assumed name.

ME. POSTER, SB., PROSTRATED AT RABYLON.

MB. POSTER, SB-, PROSTRATED AT BABYLON. William R. Foster, ar., the father of the absconding lawyer, went to his home in Babylon, L. I., last evening, and has not appeared at his Canal street place of business to-day. He is about prostrated by the misconduct of his son.

His nephew, at the [Canal street store, was very reticent. He declared that neither he nor Foster's father knew anything of the young woman, Lulu, further than that she was the adopted daughter of the forger.

$5,000 PROM THE BOWERT NATIONAL BANK. weeks ago. She was the wife of Mr. Zeigler, a well-known artist, a member of one of the large singing societies of this city."

"The boy Willie who visited her at Bayport and was known as her brother is in fact her twin brother. At the time of his visits to Bayport he was attending school in New Jersey and is now in the West, employed by a firm of civil engineers."

"I have talked with William R. Foster, the father," said Mr. De Graaf. "I have known him many, many years. He is very much broken down by this affair.

"To think," said he; bere am I seventy-interpretation of the swell of the seventy-interpretation of the Bowery National Bank, and it was true that young Foster had borrowed $5,000 from that bank on Tuesday, but added: "He presented good collateral or he would not have got the money."

"I have talked with William R. Foster, the father," said Mr. De Graaf. "I have known him many, many years. He is very much broken down by this affair.

"To think," said he years old, and my son does this thing! I had rather that he were dead."

NOTHING FROM THE COLUMBIA BANK. President Fox, of the Columbia Bank, Fifth avenue and Forty-second street, denies hat Foster obtained any money on his securthat Foster obtained any money on his securities at that bank.

"Why," said he, "as a matter of fact I do not know him. He has never done any business with us, and he does not owe us one dollar. It is unfair to his brother, John H. Foster, to say that he does." EXAMINING MORTGAGES. Deputy Register Watts said to an Eventso World reporter that there had been several callers with mortgages for examination today, including one man who had forty. An appointment was made for their examination today. All of the Produce Exchange mortgages have been examined, but no new forgeries have been discovered.

BEDELL AND POSTER NOT PALS. The idea that Bedell and Foster were in some way connected in their crooked work is dissipated by a comparison of their work. The type used in the documents is different; the bogus Register's seals are not of the same size, and the forgeries and written matter in the papers are evidently not the work of the same band.

NO INDICTMENTS YET. Beferring to the statement that the Foster case would be presented to the Grand Jury to find indictmen.s, in order that he could be extradited without delay, if located, M. Penney, of the District-Attorney's office, said to-day:

"I do not believe the matter has been presented to the Grand Jury vet, but if it has been it would not be known until the indictments were handed up in court. I think, moreover, that before presenting the case to the jury the trustees of the Produce Ex-change Gratuity Fund will wait until they find out where Foster is." THE $20,000 ATTACHMENT.

THE $20,000 ATTACHMENT.

'The Produce Exchange has obtained from Judge O'Brien, of the Supreme Court, Chambers, an attachment against the property of Wm. R. Foster, ir., the missing counsel of the Exchange Grastuity Fund, in a suit to recover $20,000. The attachment was granted upon affidavits by Duncan R. Norvell, Clerk of the Gratuity Fund; Alexander E. Orr. President of the Exchange; William E. Clark, President of the Board of Trustees of the Gratuity Fund, and Lewis H. Watts, assistant Deputy Register.

Mr. Norvell in his affidavits repeats the details of Foster forgeries and alleges that he has probably gone to Canada. The other affidavits are corroborative.

WHAT EMPEROR WILLIAM of Us. See the SUNDAY WORLD. A special Interview with the new German ruler cabled from Berlin by a

Changes at St. Vincent's Bospital. House Physician Henry Cunnesty, of St. Vincent's Hospital, will retire to-morrow, and will be succeeded by Dr. Winthrep D. Mitchell, whose staff of Dr. E. M. McCabe, Dr. Philip Dr. Alphonso M. Wallace, ambulan

PRICE ONE CENT.

Taken from the National Bank of the Republic.

All the Employees Thoroughly Searched by Detectives.

The Man Who Stole It Sald to Have Been Discovered.

THE EVENING WORLD is again the means of bringing to light another bank robbery. The amount stolen is $5,800 and the victim the National Bank of the Republic. The great-

The bank is located in the First National Bank Building, at 2 Wall street, on the second floor, and is a large and flourishing institution, with a capital of $1,500,000. Its President is John J. Knox; Vice-President, Oliver S. Carter; Cashler, Eugene H. Pullen, and Assistant Cashler, Charles H. Stone, clever gentlemen and pop-ular among the Wall street financiers-and ousiness men generally.

Mr. Knox was at one time Comptroller of the United States Treasury under the Republican régime, and his name is as familiar as any in financial circles.

The bank was opened for business at 9.30 any in financial circles.

The bank was opened for business at 9.30, o'clock yesterday morning.

Many thousands of dollars changed hands in a few minutes after the vaults were opened, and the tellers and receivers were as busy as bees counting and recounting great piles of bank notes and passing them out to customers or from hand to hand in the bank.

Trinity's bell across the way rung out 19 o'clock, when suddenly it was discovered in the bank that a package of $5,800 in small bills was missing.

One of the tellers asserted that he turned the money over to another teller.

Cashier Pullen immediately proceeded to recover the missing money, and the detective at the door was warned of the loss. Little was said for a time, but every man in the bank except the leading officers was under close scrutiny.

A Pinkerton detective was sent for, and came in immediately afterwards and aided in the watch on the employees. Every avenue of escape, if suddenly contemplated by any of the tellers or clerks, was cut off.

"Where could the money have gone?" was the question discussed in whispers by Prestdent Knox and Messes. Carter and Pullen. They gave up the search in the big counting-room and in the large and strong vaults where most of the money is kept, but were convinced the money was still in the bank. Through the advice of the detectives the bank officers remained quiet while the former took another course.

Noon came and still the missing package was not found, though every conceivable place where it might have been put, either surreptitiously and with felonious intent or carelessly, was searched by the cashier and his assistant.

Some of the employees, who usually go out to lunch at 12 o'clock, were about to lay down their pens and put on their hats and coats, but they were quietly informed that every one behind the long counters should stay right at his post and continue his work.

The bank is closed to the public at 5 p. M. each day, and the clerks and tellers are usually kept busy closing up accounts, &c., until 5 o'c

The missing money was not recovered when the last mentioned hour arrived and the employees were all informed that they must remain until 6 o'clock while the two detectives searched every one of them from top to toe, and gazed into every nock and corner in the small compartments divided off by a net-work of brast straps. straps.

None of the tellers or clerks objected to what some of them considered an indignity, for their honesty had never been questioned in the several years they had been employed.

in the several years they had been employed there.

But still the missing money did not materialize. The officers of the bank were greatly annoyed about the matter and began to believe that the lost funds had in some mysterious manner, or through collusion on the part of one of the employes and some outside confederate, gotten out of the bank, and they concluded to charge it to profit and loss.

The detectives continued their vigilance and are said to have to-day found the missing package under circumstances which cast suspicion on the honesty of a man who is detained to await a close examination by the bank officers before any severe measures are taken.

When an Evenino Wolld reporter called at the bank to-day he was ushered by the venerable argus-eyed detective through an iron-barred door into the presence of Cashiet Tullen, whom he asked for information concerning the loss of the $5,800 package.

Mr. Pullen laughed gleefully after he said;
"We are used to losing money every day."
haven't time to tell you anything about it.
You better go across the room and see Mr.
Knox, our President."

The reporter was let out of the cage in which Mr. Pullen has his desk, and carea fully watched by the detective, he introduced himself to Mr. Knox and informed him that Mr. Pullen had turned the reporter over to his tender mercies for the desired information.

"Oh, it is only a small matter. We are not at all worried about it. I think we will find the money before the day is out.

"The $5,800 package was missed immedistely after one employee had, according to his statement, turned it over to another employee. We know the money could not have gotten outside of the bank and may have been missaid somewhere.

"I was in a country bank once in the central part of this State when $3,500 disappeared, and a long search falled to discover the money. It was finally found in the copying-press, where it had been placed by a clerk for the purpose of straightening out."

"But how spout the searching of all the cank officers before any severe measur clerk for the purpose of state out."

"But how spout the searching of all the employees?" was ventured.

"I don't propose to say anything about it; I can't see what interest that is to any one outside of the bank. I think we will find the money, but I can't tell you anything about the manner in which it has been lost. No one had been arrested, and the money has not been recovered."

WHAT EMPEROR WILLIAM OF UNL See the SUNDAY WORLD. A special In the new German ruler cables from B World Commissioner.